

13th Annual Family Leadership Conference

This conference will help families improve their skills in advocating for their children and in impacting the systems that affect their children. There will be fun networking opportunities with over 300 participants from around the state and a selection of workshop strands that will provide important information and perspectives to both families and professionals.

"I'm a 61 year old grandmother raising two children with ADHD and one who was also born with Fetal Alcohol Syndrome. I was given information about PRO and I read about how I could help my grandkids by attending this. I was able to come and I have learned so much about my rights to do with my grand kids that I didn't know I had. I hope to come back again next year and find out what other information I can get."

Parents Reaching Out (PRO)...

...is a statewide non-profit 501(c)(3) organization that works with parents, caregivers, educators, and other professionals to promote healthy, positive, and caring experiences for New Mexico families and children. Founded in 1981, PRO has served New Mexico families for over 35 years.

The mission of Parents Reaching Out is to enhance positive outcomes for families and children in New Mexico through informed decision making, advocacy, education, and resources. PRO provides the networking opportunities for families to connect with and support each other. This mission supports all families including those who have children with disabilities, and others who are disenfranchised.
